Manchester's Outstanding Employees Honored at Annual Awards Ceremony

Manchester Township honored the outstanding work its municipal employees deliver each day during the 2015 Holiday Party and Employee Recognition Awards, hosted on December 16 by Mayor Kenneth Palmer and the Township Council.

"I've always said, even before I became Mayor, that Manchester is a great town and that is because of our employees," said Mayor Palmer, who added that he was quickly brought up to speed when he came into office this year thanks to the knowledge and dedication of all Township staff.

Mayor Palmer, Business Administrator Donna Markulic and Personnel Officer James Gant presented the awards during the breakfast event. All employees had been asked to nominate their peers for their exceptional efforts, and from those nominations a committee selected this year's award recipients. They were:

Professional Achievement Award

Martin Lynch, Tax Assessor

Martin was sworn in as the President of the Association of Municipal Assessors of New Jersey on November 18. Martin was chosen for his drive, ability, forward thinking, and command presence needed to hold such a position. This appointment is a positive reflection on all members of the Township of Manchester and is in line with the high level of performance our employees provide the Township.

Exceptional Service Award

Julia Burton, Municipal Court

Due to unforeseen family emergencies in the Municipal Court office, Julia took it upon herself to cover the responsibilities of the Court Administrator and balance Court accounts, and coordinated with Judge Sahin to have checks signed and sent to their respective agencies, ensuring that Manchester was not delinquent in their duty as per the Administrative Office of the Court guidelines.
